Kidvive Fun & Learn Activity School is an online learning platform designed for children aged 2 to 6 years. Our school offers a carefully structured curriculum across four levels: ECD (2-3 years), Play (3-4 years), Nursery (4-5 years), and KG (5-6 years), focusing on the developmental needs of young learners. Each level is designed to provide children with a strong foundation in key academic areas while making learning engaging and enjoyable. In the ECD level, we emphasize parental involvement, guiding parents on how to teach their children essential skills in motor development, communication, and early cognitive abilities. The goal is to create a strong foundation at home that supports children's early learning.

At the Play level, children begin learning alphabets, words, tracing, and rhymes while also exploring basic math and science concepts. The curriculum is designed to keep children engaged and curious, offering subjects like Bangla, English, Math, Storybooks, and Coloring, all taught in a fun and interactive way.

The Nursery level builds on these skills by introducing sentence formation, expanding vocabulary, and diving deeper into intermediate science concepts. Children are also encouraged to develop their critical thinking and problem-solving abilities through subjects like Bangla, English, Math, and Storybooks.

In the KG level, children refine their sentence-making, continue learning math and science, and work on writing skills with fill-in-the-blank rhymes. This level focuses on preparing children for formal schooling, giving them the necessary tools to succeed in a school environment.

At Kidvive Fun & Learn Activity School, we combine interactive learning and engaging activities with a focus on parental involvement, ensuring that children receive a well-rounded education. Our goal is to make learning enjoyable while providing children with the skills they need for future academic success.

Fun, Learn & Grow

The Nursery level focuses on expanding vocabulary, forming basic sentences, and continuing rhymes memorization. Kids start learning intermediate science concepts and advance in subjects like Bangla, English, Math, Storybooks, and Coloring Books. This level bridges the gap between basic learning and more structured education.

About Our Program

Nursery (Level 3) Ages 4-5

The Nursery level builds upon the Play level by introducing more advanced language skills, basic sentence formation, and an extended vocabulary. At this stage, children are encouraged to form simple sentences using the words they have learned, helping them improve communication skills. They also continue with rhymes memorization, strengthening their language abilities and rhythm recognition. They begin exploring nature, weather, and basic experiments to foster curiosity and logical thinking. Children at this stage expand their Bangla skills by learning new words, forming sentences, and understanding rhyming patterns. In English, they build on vocabulary and start writing short phrases. Science lessons introduce topics such as animals, plants, and the environment, encouraging hands-on exploration. Storybooks at this level include longer and more meaningful stories to strengthen reading comprehension, while coloring activities help refine artistic and motor skills. By the end of the Nursery level, children gain the confidence to express themselves in simple sentences, understand early math concepts, and engage in exploratory learning, preparing them for more advanced education.

A Glass of Milk

There was a poor boy who would sell newspapers to pay for school. One day, he was ravenous and decided to ask for food at the next house he visited. Several people denied him food. However, a girl at one house offered him a glass of milk. She refused to take payment for it.

After many years, this girl fell sick. No doctor wanted to help her. She decided to go to the best doctor in the town. The doctor spent months treating her, though she could not afford the service. When she received the hospital bill, it read 'Paid in full, with a glass of milk.'

Moral: Good deeds are always rewarded.

The Ants and the Grasshopper

A family of ants was drying out the grain they had stored during the summer. A hungry grasshopper comes to them and asks for some food. They asked him why he had not saved any food for the winter. The grasshopper said he was too busy making music during the summer that he didn't save any food.

The ants had no sympathy for the grasshopper and went back to work. Can you guess the ant and grasshopper story moral?

Two friends were walking through the forest. Since it was dangerous, they promised to stay close to each other. They see a bear approaching them. One friend scurries up a tree, leaving the other one behind. The other friend decided to pretend to be dead. The bear approached him, smelled his ear and then left.

The friend in the tree climbed down and asked the other friend what the bear had told him. He replies, “The bear simply advised against believing a false friend.”

The Miser and His Gold

Once, there was a miser who would hide all his gold under the stones in his garden. He never spent his gold, and without fail, he would count his coins before going to bed every day. One day a thief spotted him counting his coins. After the miser went to sleep, the thief stole all the gold.

The next day, the miser saw that all his gold was missing and started wailing. His neighbors came running and asked him what had happened. The neighbors asked him why he didn't keep the gold in the house since it would be easy to access inside.

The Dog At the Well

On a farm lived a mother dog and her pups. The mother dog warned her pups to never play near the well. However, one curious puppy decided to peek over the well. He saw his own reflection in the well and assumed it was another dog. He started barking at his reflection as he thought the

He jumped into the well to fight the other puppy, only to realise that there was no other puppy. He kept on barking till the farmer came and saved him. The puppy never went back to the well again.

Moral: Heed the warnings of those who are wiser.

Controlling Anger

There was a young boy who could not control his anger. He would say whatever came to his mind, even if it hurts people. His father asked him to hammer in a nail in the backyard fence whenever he got angry. In the beginning, he used up a lot of nails. But as time went by, he started

When he removed all the nails, the father asked him to see the holes in the fence. He reminded him that the fence would never be the same. Likewise, the things he had said to people could never be erased.

Moral: Anger leaves scars on people.

The Four Students

Four friends who hated studying partied all night before their exams. They asked the Dean to give them a second chance by lying about their whereabouts. They told the Dean they had gone to a wedding the night before, and on their way back, they had a flat tire, requiring them to push

The Dean agreed to let them take the test again. They studied hard for the exam. On the exam day, they were made to sit in separate classrooms and were given only two questions:

1. Your name
2. Which tire of the car burst:
  - a) Front Left b) Front right c) Rear left d) Rear right

any more. As he grew hungrier, he devised a plan. He told the fish in the tank that the farmers would soon empty out the tank and grow crops there. He offered to take the distressed fish to a bigger tank further away. The fish happily agreed, but the stork would take them to a rock and kill them. There was also a crab in the tank who wished to be saved.

The stork, thinking he could try some new food, agreed to take him. However, the crab quickly noticed the fish bones on the rock. He immediately dug his claws into the stork's neck and killed him. He then went back to the old tank and informed the other fish.

The Camel And The Baby

A baby camel once asked her mother why they had humps, round hooves, and long eyelashes. The mother explained that the humps could store water, the rounded hooves were to help them walk through the desert, and the long eyelashes protected their eyes from sand.

The baby thought over this and then asked her mother if they have all these qualities for the desert, why are they in a zoo? The mother was dumbfounded.

A partridge could not find food near its home, so it travelled far away to some cornfields. It stayed there for a few days before returning home. Meanwhile, a rabbit had found the empty nest and made itself at home. When the partridge returned, they both fought over whose house it was. The other animals suggested going to a judge.

They found a praying cat by the river and decided to ask for help. Seeing how the cat was praying, they trusted it. The cat heard them both out but asked them to come closer as he couldn't hear well. When they got closer, the cat killed and ate them both.

plant in a catalogue and decided she wanted to plant it. She planted it at the base of the stonewall in her garden. It quickly grew, but no flowers bloomed on the tree. She thought she would cut it down, but her neighbour called her and thanked her for the beautiful flowers blooming on its vines.

She rushes over and realises that the vine had crept through the crevices of the stonewall. The flowers had bloomed generously on the other side.

A long time ago, a large and ugly duckling was born into a family of perfectly charming ducks. He was so different that his mother even wondered if he might be a turkey. Even though everyone thought he was big and unattractive, his mother always praised his amazing swimming abilities.

On their first visit to the pond, the mother duck attempted to teach her ducklings how to swim. The other ducks quickly noticed how odd-looking the big duckling was, but his mother stood up for him. Other animals teased him for his unusual white feathers while all the other ducklings were adorable and yellow.

The ugly duckling ran away from there and roamed for a long time. Eventually, he came across a group of swans who revealed to him that he wasn't a duck at all, but a stunning swan, just like them.

Moral: Never judge others on their appearance.

The hidden treasure

This is the story of an old farmer who was worried about his four grown sons who did not work. When he became ill and was near death, he wanted to teach them a lesson. He told them he had hidden treasure on the farm, and only the best son would find it.

A fisherman was out on one of his fishing trips. He spent quite some time in the water but was unlucky. Eventually, he managed to catch a small fish.

To his surprise, the fish started talking. It said, “I am only a tiny fish. Please let me live.” The fisherman looked at it in amazement. “Why should I let you go?” he asked.

“I am just a small fish. You have a large family. How will I fill all their stomachs? Let me go, kind sir, and you will find a bigger fish to feed your family,” the fish said. The fisherman was tempted to release the fish.

But then, he thought, “What if I cannot catch another fish? I spent a lot of time catching only this one! If I fail to catch any more, my family will go hungry today.” So he changed his mind and took the small fish home.
